We offer our sincere apologies to the Magrath High School "A" Team for the unkind words about them in our last issue. It was not intended to be taken too seriously but for any offence whatsoever we are sorry.

JACKS WHIP MAGRATH

The Union Jacks pulled ahead of the third running Magrath Rockets in I.B.L. action here by downing the Garden City Quintet 62-56.

Al West hit the hemp for a classy 25 point performance while Garry Gough struck for 15 in one of his finest efforts.

Al Naider held Wes Rice down to only a few free tosses until the fatal moment when he was fouled off where Larry West stepped in to do an equally fine job in holding down the little Magrath cager. Rice however was high man for the Rockets with 12 points followed by Ty Alston who notched 11.

The Jacks, realizing the job they had in front of them was not one to be trifled with, settled down to work and rolled to a 21-15 bulge when the opening ten minutes of play was over.

The following stanza was a war of defence as both sides clamped down on its rival but the locals once again proved their superiority on their own back yard by canning a less than average 11 to the visitors seven to run the tally to 32-22.

The play loosened up in the third quarter as the Jacks rang in 17 in selling the Rockets to 13. The forty minute score was 49-35.

The battling Magrath cagers gave it all they had in the final but the Jacks had too big a lead with not enough time and too good a team for the visitors. As result the Magrath-ites canned 21 as Raymond collected only 13. To end up on the usual side of the score sheet, the favorable one as we hope they will do so in their future games and bring back some more fame to Raymond.

JACKS WIN OPENER

Our fabulous Union Jacks looked very classy as they over powered the visiting Magrath Rockets 77-66 in the opening game of the I.B.L. semi-finals before a near sellout crowd of almost 500 fans in the Opera House the other night.

As usual the lanky Al West pivot man for the locals turned in a sparkling display of hoop magic as he chalked up 26 points hot team to well deserved victory. Pete Shaw saw that his name was high on the scoring list, with 20 points being fired from his nimble hands. Larry West gave the fans a good exhibition of basketball as he helped hold down Wes Rice as well as hit the hemp for 13 counters.

Matkins turned in a brilliant performance for the Rockets as he took high scoring laurels with 23 points followed by C. Alston who canned 14. Eleven points each went to Wes Rice and T. Alston.

The Sugar City five literally walked on Rockets in the first frame as they garnered a 19 to 9 lead. However the picture changed in the next two stanza as the visitors found their bearings and went to work to try to fix up the sad looking score, they succeeded in netting 14 points which unfortunately for them was not good enough to match the Jacks 17. This ran the half time score to 20-36. Matkin got rolling in the third quarter and was the main reason for the Rockets being able to better the Jacks by two points which ran the forty minute score to 52-41.

In the finale the Rockets got 26 points to Raymond 25 which left the score sheet reading 77-66.

In the preliminary tussle the R.H.S. Helcats squeezed by the Spud Nut Babes by a score of 32-30. Dorothy Stone got the winning counter but it was red hot Sharlene Graham who won the game with her nifty 21 points. Schurtz and Martin each racked up nine for the top point getters on their side.

2nd Musical Score Bob McMullen Finishes

Raymond folks will be pleased to hear that one of our own boys Bob McMullen son of Mr. and Mrs. Wes McMullen has achieved more recognition in the classical music field in as much as he has just ended composing "Essay for Orchestra." Bob composed this especially for the Edmonton Symphony Society Orchestra and on January 26-27 1954 it was played at a concert given by the Orchestra at the Victoria Composite Auditorium in Edmonton and received much praise. This is Bob's 2nd venture into the Classical field, in 1948 he composed "The Rocky Mountain Suite" which was played by the Toronto Symphony Orchestra at "Massey Hall" under the direction of Sir Ernest Mac Millan. Bob is self taught, he hopes some day to compose music for films and radio and thinks sometime he will do an Opera.

Bob is an Orchestra leader and is well known for his radio program which the broadcast from station C.B. X. Edmonton every Monday night. Our congratulation go to Bob in his musical career, Raymond can be justly proud to boast a music composer.

ON SNOW REMOVAL

A By-Law Was Passed Which We All Know. To keep our side walks free from snow if we failed to do so a $10.00 fine was imposed upon us, me, and mine. Most property holders stayed by that Law. Others did not and that's for sure a ten dollar fine, the penalty to be. Some called this bluff and got off free. For Taxes that's paid I know you'll agree. That snow and garbage Could be hauled away FREE.

These students from White River, Ont., made a round trip of more than 1,100 miles to visit the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto to see how oil is found and produced in Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. The students and their teacher, Miss Agnes Farries (centre, back row) set a new distance record for organized school groups visiting the museum. They saw an exhibition on the Canadian oil industry, produced jointly by Imperial Oil Ltd. and the museum. The first exhibition of its kind in Canada, it uses modern display techniques to explain the intricacies of oil exploration and discovery in western Canada. Miss Margaret Cumming, science lecturer of the museum staff, is discussing the operation of an oilman's Christmas tree, the collection of valves and pipes which controls the flow of oil from a well.

A Father for First Time Boy, 22, Dies in Crash After Seeing Son

—SNS Photo
A 22-year-old father, returning home to suburban Kitchener, Ont., after visiting his wife and new-born son in hospital, was killed when his car went out of control and hit a tree on highway. Dead is Robert Swartz, who was driving the car when it went out of control rounding a curve, hurtled across a ditch, struck a tree and rolled into a field. Two passengers with him were injured in crash, one seriously.

DEAR SON

Since that day you cost me four boxes of cigars, you have succeeded in becoming 28 years old. I mention that achievement because so far as I can ascertain tonight alone here in my room, that has been your only one.

I remember the deep joy I extracted from my anticipation of having a son and the greater ecstasy of realization. Your babyhood brought me happiness. But even as I recall such pleasures my conscience is seared. By refraining from every kind and degree of disciplining, I was grossly unfair to you.

Not once in those years that I gave you everything you desired did I stop to think how much of my so-called success was directly attributable to a pair of hardheaded and hardboiled parents who had loved me too much to make a feeble fool of me. Their poverty was a strong and competent ally of their commonsense. They didn't spare the rod when such sparing would have been detrimental to my future.

I have not been as wise as my parents. Instead, I have showered upon defenseless you the unbridled indulgence of my joy in giving you everything. I shielded you from the natural results of your childish follies. I supplied you with a cash weekly allowance such as no boy of your age should have had.

Your mother, my son, was just as affectionate as I, but she possessed head as full of foresight and wisdom as were our hearts of love. She tried to put on the brakes, but such was my stubborn egotism that she could not sober me up from my spree of parental servility. Other men's sons could do wrong. Not MY son!

What a fatuous fool can blind parental worship make of a man otherwise accounted intelligent!

Your mother wept today, my son, as we returned from the courtroom. She spoke no accusing word. But had justice been done, it is I who would be behind the bars tonight, not you. I have experienced the Scriptural truth: 'The fathers have eaten sour grapes and the children's teeth are set on edge.'

Soon you will be a free man again. Dollars have atoned for property damage you have caused and nature will heal the bones broken because of your carelessness. That incident, mercifully forgotten in this busy world.

So cannot we start again, you and I, on a new path?

I am asking for your forgiveness, my son. And I ask that God will not punish you for my sin. I daily plead with Him not to do so. He is punishing me... justly but agonizingly...every day and every night.

It brings some measure of ease to my soul to put my feelings into words. Hiding in anonymity, I shall share this letter with others. Perhaps it may meet the eyes of other fathers and will turn them from the folly that has been mine.

—Your Father
(From the Rotarian Magazine)

GREEP'S ELECTRIC

Federal and provincial authorities have wisely contributed immeasurably to the development of agriculture, minerals, and fisheries. But the forests receive much less attention even though a single forest industry, namely pulp and paper creates more new wealth annually for Canada than all the grain crops combined, and more than all the mineral production from coal to gold and from asbestos to petroleum.

Mrs. Vonda Wilde was hostess to the Les Amies Wednesday evening when they met for the first meeting of the year.

From the fifth of the annual wood consumption—no more than is taken by fire, insects and disease—the pulp and paper mills alone create more national income than all the other forest industries.

As I sweep the path in the yard— And he scatters the leaves to the four wild winds

Where recovery's rather hard—

"I'll help you Mom" smiles Timothy John

As I set the table for tea — And something slips and a saucer chips

But HOW is a mystery!

"I'll help you Mom!" smiles Timothy John

As I get out my bowls to bake— And later we munch on a flat gray stone

That Timothy calls a cake.

It's not only the labor of two small hands,

It's the love in his heart he'll proffer

So, when Timothy John calls
